

Equipping

Mokahum offers high-quality Bible training from pastors, Native ministry leaders, and other experienced Christians. You will take only one modular course at a time, gaining valuable biblical knowledge to better prepare you for life and ministry in Christ.

Training

At Mokahum you will get hands-on ministry experience as you develop your gifts within a local church and join with other students in mission trips and community outreach projects.

Building

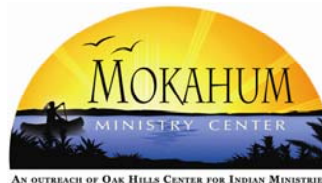

Grow in Christlike character as you receive one-on-one mentoring from a mature believer, as you gain important life skills, and as you live and work in community with other students.

Please contact us to request a catalog and application or to discuss whether Mokahum Ministry Center might be a good fit for you.

New day dawns at Mokahum

Mokahum Indian Bible School was founded in 1948 by the Christian and Missionary Alliance as a Bible school for Native Americans. Over the next 30 years, students from many tribes studied at Mokahum, going on to become pastors, missionaries, and leaders in communities and reservations all over North America.

After Mokahum's closure in 1978, the school sat vacant for nearly 30 years. In 2006, the Alliance offered to give the property to Oak Hills Center for Indian Ministries for the reestablishment of a Native training center.

The new Mokahum Ministry Center is a community where Native Christians can come to receive mentoring, ministry training, and biblical education that will prepare them for life and service in the body of Christ. It is a safe place where followers of Jesus can together build a strong foundation to withstand adversity, to grow in love for God and others, and to serve Christ faithfully.

"Mokahum" comes from an Ojibwe word meaning "sunrise" or "new day." Our vision for Moka-
